

LOUISVILLE DAILY DEMOCRAT.

VOLUME XVIII.

LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY: TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 8, 1862.

NUMBER 272

Daily Democrat.

TERMS OF DAILY DEMOCRAT TO THE COUNTRY.

One Year. $5.00
Six Months. 3.00
Three Months. 1.50
One Month. 1.00
No subscription taken for less than one month.

All Subscribers, whose papers were discontinued when the mail facilities were cut off in Southern Kentucky and Tennessee, can obtain them now by giving no notice where they received them and where they now with them forward for the time paid for.

For Judge of Court of Appeals,

R. K. WILLIAMS,

OF GRAVES COUNTY.

District composed of Allen, Breckinridge, Bellard, Calloway, Caldwell, Crittenden, Christian, Davies, Edmonson, Fulton, Graves, Grayson, Hancock, Hickman, Henderson, Hopkins, Livingston, Lyon, Logan, Marshall, McCracken, Muhlenberg, McLean, Ohio, Simpson, Todd, Trig, Union, Warren, and Webster.

General Butler and Pierre Soule.

Positions of men become reversed in a remarkable way these times. At Charleston, two years ago, Butler was on hand consorting with fire-eaters and Disunionists to break up the Democratic Convention. He was charged there with the misrepresentation of those who sent him, but he persevered. He was serving, along with Caleb Cushing, the beacons of Buchanan and his faction.

Butler was chiefly marked for the craft he showed in defeating the conservative portion of the body, who were nearly all for Stephen A. Douglas as the nominee for President.

The Convention adjourned to Baltimore, and there was General Butler again at the same game. There also was Soule. The Louisiana delegation had left the Convention at Charleston. Soule was at the head of another delegation who came accredited to Baltimore, not to Richmond. He and his friends were for standing firmly with a majority of the Convention. He heard his eloquent voice in private meetings, pointing out the design of these fire-eaters, and exposing their purpose to dissolve the Union. The Convention at last admitted the delegates that came in good faith to Baltimore, and not to Richmond, via Baltimore. The secession took place and Butler left with his Secesh brethren, and as he left Soule and his delegation entered the body. He subsequently went home and did all he could for Douglas against the fire-eaters, whilst Butler did what he could to divide and weaken the Democracy by warring on Douglas. About that time the Breckinridge men of the free States and the Republicans worked to the same end—the election of Abraham Lincoln to the office of President. Now Butler is General of the Union armies, and Soule, who did all that talent and energy could to arrest the rebellion, is arrested by the quondam ally of Secessionists and sent to a military prison.

We do not believe the charge against Soule. He has acquiesced, no doubt, in the action of his State, and submitted to his surroundings, is true; but that he approved of Secession at first we know is not true, and we have no idea he approves it now. It would be well if the President would look into this matter and see the nature of the charge, and if it be true.

MORNING.

Yesterday, while Porter was pushing for the river, Heintzelman and Sumner's corps moved down the road leading from Richmond to White Oak Swamp. The rebels immediately got up their columns and followed. He seemed to spread himself out like a fan, for before noon he was found to be advancing upon every road leading from Richmond—the Williamsburg, the Charles City, the Central and the New Market, as well as from the direction of Bottom's Bridge.

OUR PREPARATIONS.

From the Army of the Potomac. GRAPHIC DESCRIPTION OF MONDAY'S FIGHT.

[Correspondence of the New York World.] BOARD TRANSPORT, JAMES RIVER, TUESDAY EVENING, JULY 1.

Events have culminated. More history has been made. Physical nature demands rest, but duty and the public demand the facts. Another terrible battle has been fought. Our weary, worn, half-fainted troops whose nobleness has never known defeat did what they could to divide and weaken the Democracy by warring on Douglas. About that time the Breckinridge men of the free States and the Republicans worked to the same end—the election of Abraham Lincoln to the office of President. Now Butler is General of the Union armies, and Soule, who did all that talent and energy could to arrest the rebellion, is arrested by the quondam ally of Secessionists and sent to a military prison.

We do not believe the charge against Soule. He has acquiesced, no doubt, in the action of his State, and submitted to his surroundings, is true; but that he approved of Secession at first we know is not true, and we have no idea he approves it now. It would be well if the President would look into this matter and see the nature of the charge, and if it be true.

MORNING.

Yesterday, while Porter was pushing for the river, Heintzelman and Sumner's corps moved down the road leading from Richmond to White Oak Swamp. The rebels immediately got up their columns and followed. He seemed to spread himself out like a fan, for before noon he was found to be advancing upon every road leading from Richmond—the Williamsburg, the Charles City, the Central and the New Market, as well as from the direction of Bottom's Bridge.

OUR PREPARATIONS.

From the Army of the Potomac. GRAPHIC DESCRIPTION OF MONDAY'S FIGHT.

[Correspondence of the New York World.] BOARD TRANSPORT, JAMES RIVER, TUESDAY EVENING, JULY 1.

Events have culminated. More history has been made. Physical nature demands rest, but duty and the public demand the facts. Another terrible battle has been fought. Our weary, worn, half-fainted troops whose nobleness has never known defeat did what they could to divide and weaken the Democracy by warring on Douglas. About that time the Breckinridge men of the free States and the Republicans worked to the same end—the election of Abraham Lincoln to the office of President. Now Butler is General of the Union armies, and Soule, who did all that talent and energy could to arrest the rebellion, is arrested by the quondam ally of Secessionists and sent to a military prison.

We do not believe the charge against Soule. He has acquiesced, no doubt, in the action of his State, and submitted to his surroundings, is true; but that he approved of Secession at first we know is not true, and we have no idea he approves it now. It would be well if the President would look into this matter and see the nature of the charge, and if it be true.

MORNING.

Yesterday, while Porter was pushing for the river, Heintzelman and Sumner's corps moved down the road leading from Richmond to White Oak Swamp. The rebels immediately got up their columns and followed. He seemed to spread himself out like a fan, for before noon he was found to be advancing upon every road leading from Richmond—the Williamsburg, the Charles City, the Central and the New Market, as well as from the direction of Bottom's Bridge.

OUR PREPARATIONS.

From the Army of the Potomac. GRAPHIC DESCRIPTION OF MONDAY'S FIGHT.

[Correspondence of the New York World.] BOARD TRANSPORT, JAMES RIVER, TUESDAY EVENING, JULY 1.

Events have culminated. More history has been made. Physical nature demands rest, but duty and the public demand the facts. Another terrible battle has been fought. Our weary, worn, half-fainted troops whose nobleness has never known defeat did what they could to divide and weaken the Democracy by warring on Douglas. About that time the Breckinridge men of the free States and the Republicans worked to the same end—the election of Abraham Lincoln to the office of President. Now Butler is General of the Union armies, and Soule, who did all that talent and energy could to arrest the rebellion, is arrested by the quondam ally of Secessionists and sent to a military prison.

We do not believe the charge against Soule. He has acquiesced, no doubt, in the action of his State, and submitted to his surroundings, is true; but that he approved of Secession at first we know is not true, and we have no idea he approves it now. It would be well if the President would look into this matter and see the nature of the charge, and if it be true.

MORNING.

Yesterday, while Porter was pushing for the river, Heintzelman and Sumner's corps moved down the road leading from Richmond to White Oak Swamp. The rebels immediately got up their columns and followed. He seemed to spread himself out like a fan, for before noon he was found to be advancing upon every road leading from Richmond—the Williamsburg, the Charles City, the Central and the New Market, as well as from the direction of Bottom's Bridge.

OUR PREPARATIONS.

From the Army of the Potomac. GRAPHIC DESCRIPTION OF MONDAY'S FIGHT.

[Correspondence of the New York World.] BOARD TRANSPORT, JAMES RIVER, TUESDAY EVENING, JULY 1.

Events have culminated. More history has been made. Physical nature demands rest, but duty and the public demand the facts. Another terrible battle has been fought. Our weary, worn, half-fainted troops whose nobleness has never known defeat did what they could to divide and weaken the Democracy by warring on Douglas. About that time the Breckinridge men of the free States and the Republicans worked to the same end—the election of Abraham Lincoln to the office of President. Now Butler is General of the Union armies, and Soule, who did all that talent and energy could to arrest the rebellion, is arrested by the quondam ally of Secessionists and sent to a military prison.

We do not believe the charge against Soule. He has acquiesced, no doubt, in the action of his State, and submitted to his surroundings, is true; but that he approved of Secession at first we know is not true, and we have no idea he approves it now. It would be well if the President would look into this matter and see the nature of the charge, and if it be true.

MORNING.

Yesterday, while Porter was pushing for the river, Heintzelman and Sumner's corps moved down the road leading from Richmond to White Oak Swamp. The rebels immediately got up their columns and followed. He seemed to spread himself out like a fan, for before noon he was found to be advancing upon every road leading from Richmond—the Williamsburg, the Charles City, the Central and the New Market, as well as from the direction of Bottom's Bridge.

OUR PREPARATIONS.

From the Army of the Potomac. GRAPHIC DESCRIPTION OF MONDAY'S FIGHT.

[Correspondence of the New York World.] BOARD TRANSPORT, JAMES RIVER, TUESDAY EVENING, JULY 1.

Events have culminated. More history has been made. Physical nature demands rest, but duty and the public demand the facts. Another terrible battle has been fought. Our weary, worn, half-fainted troops whose nobleness has never known defeat did what they could to divide and weaken the Democracy by warring on Douglas. About that time the Breckinridge men of the free States and the Republicans worked to the same end—the election of Abraham Lincoln to the office of President. Now Butler is General of the Union armies, and Soule, who did all that talent and energy could to arrest the rebellion, is arrested by the quondam ally of Secessionists and sent to a military prison.

We do not believe the charge against Soule. He has acquiesced, no doubt, in the action of his State, and submitted to his surroundings, is true; but that he approved of Secession at first we know is not true, and we have no idea he approves it now. It would be well if the President would look into this matter and see the nature of the charge, and if it be true.

MORNING.

Yesterday, while Porter was pushing for the river, Heintzelman and Sumner's corps moved down the road leading from Richmond to White Oak Swamp. The rebels immediately got up their columns and followed. He seemed to spread himself out like a fan, for before noon he was found to be advancing upon every road leading from Richmond—the Williamsburg, the Charles City, the Central and the New Market, as well as from the direction of Bottom's Bridge.

OUR PREPARATIONS.

From the Army of the Potomac. GRAPHIC DESCRIPTION OF MONDAY'S FIGHT.

[Correspondence of the New York World.] BOARD TRANSPORT, JAMES RIVER, TUESDAY EVENING, JULY 1.

Events have culminated. More history has been made. Physical nature demands rest, but duty and the public demand the facts. Another terrible battle has been fought. Our weary, worn, half-fainted troops whose nobleness has never known defeat did what they could to divide and weaken the Democracy by warring on Douglas. About that time the Breckinridge men of the free States and the Republicans worked to the same end—the election of Abraham Lincoln to the office of President. Now Butler is General of the Union armies, and Soule, who did all that talent and energy could to arrest the rebellion, is arrested by the quondam ally of Secessionists and sent to a military prison.

We do not believe the charge against Soule. He has acquiesced, no doubt, in the action of his State, and submitted to his surroundings, is true; but that he approved of Secession at first we know is not true, and we have no idea he approves it now. It would be well if the President would look into this matter and see the nature of the charge, and if it be true.

MORNING.

Yesterday, while Porter was pushing for the river, Heintzelman and Sumner's corps moved down the road leading from Richmond to White Oak Swamp. The rebels immediately got up their columns and followed. He seemed to spread himself out like a fan, for before noon he was found to be advancing upon every road leading from Richmond—the Williamsburg, the Charles City, the Central and the New Market, as well as from the direction of Bottom's Bridge.

OUR PREPARATIONS.

From the Army of the Potomac. GRAPHIC DESCRIPTION OF MONDAY'S FIGHT.

[Correspondence of the New York World.] BOARD TRANSPORT, JAMES RIVER, TUESDAY EVENING, JULY 1.

Events have culminated. More history has been made. Physical nature demands rest, but duty and the public demand the facts. Another terrible battle has been fought. Our weary, worn, half-fainted troops whose nobleness has never known defeat did what they could to divide and weaken the Democracy by warring on Douglas. About that time the Breckinridge men of the free States and the Republicans worked to the same end—the election of Abraham Lincoln to the office of President. Now Butler is General of the Union armies, and Soule, who did all that talent and energy could to arrest the rebellion, is arrested by the quondam ally of Secessionists and sent to a military prison.

We do not believe the charge against Soule. He has acquiesced, no doubt, in the action of his State, and submitted to his surroundings, is true; but that he approved of Secession at first we know is not true, and we have no idea he approves it now. It would be well if the President would look into this matter and see the nature of the charge, and if it be true.

MORNING.

Yesterday, while Porter was pushing for the river, Heintzelman and Sumner's corps moved down the road leading from Richmond to White Oak Swamp. The rebels immediately got up their columns and followed. He seemed to spread himself out like a fan, for before noon he was found to be advancing upon every road leading from Richmond—the Williamsburg, the Charles City, the Central and the New Market, as well as from the direction of Bottom's Bridge.

OUR PREPARATIONS.

From the Army of the Potomac. GRAPHIC DESCRIPTION OF MONDAY'S FIGHT.

[Correspondence of the New York World.] BOARD TRANSPORT, JAMES RIVER, TUESDAY EVENING, JULY 1.

Events have culminated. More history has been made. Physical nature demands rest, but duty and the public demand the facts. Another terrible battle has been fought. Our weary, worn, half-fainted troops whose nobleness has never known defeat did what they could to divide and weaken the Democracy by warring on Douglas. About that time the Breckinridge men of the free States and the Republicans worked to the same end—the election of Abraham Lincoln to the office of President. Now Butler is General of the Union armies, and Soule, who did all that talent and energy could to arrest the rebellion, is arrested by the quondam ally of Secessionists and sent to a military prison.

We do not believe the charge against Soule. He has acquiesced, no doubt, in the action of his State, and submitted to his surroundings, is true; but that he approved of Secession at first we know is not true, and we have no idea he approves it now. It would be well if the President would look into this matter and see the nature of the charge, and if it be true.

MORNING.

Yesterday, while Porter was pushing for the river, Heintzelman and Sumner's corps moved down the road leading from Richmond to White Oak Swamp. The rebels immediately got up their columns and followed. He seemed to spread himself out like a fan, for before noon he was found to be advancing upon every road leading from Richmond—the Williamsburg, the Charles City, the Central and the New Market, as well as from the direction of Bottom's Bridge.

OUR PREPARATIONS.

From the Army of the Potomac. GRAPHIC DESCRIPTION OF MONDAY'S FIGHT.

[Correspondence of the New York World.] BOARD TRANSPORT, JAMES RIVER, TUESDAY EVENING, JULY 1.

Events have culminated. More history has been made. Physical nature demands rest, but duty and the public demand the facts. Another terrible battle has been fought. Our weary, worn, half-fainted troops whose nobleness has never known defeat did what they could to divide and weaken the Democracy by warring on Douglas. About that time the Breckinridge men of the free States and the Republicans worked to the same end—the election of Abraham Lincoln to the office of President. Now Butler is General of the Union armies, and Soule, who did all that talent and energy could to arrest the rebellion, is arrested by the quondam ally of Secessionists and sent to a military prison.

We do not believe the charge against Soule. He has acquiesced, no doubt, in the action of his State, and submitted to his surroundings, is true; but that he approved of Secession at first we know is not true, and we have no idea he approves it now. It would be well if the President would look into this matter and see the nature of the charge, and if it be true.

MORNING.

Yesterday, while Porter was pushing for the river, Heintzelman and Sumner's corps moved down the road leading from Richmond to White Oak Swamp. The rebels immediately got up their columns and followed. He seemed to spread himself out like a fan, for before noon he was found to be advancing upon every road leading from Richmond—the Williamsburg, the Charles City, the Central and the New Market, as well as from the direction of Bottom's Bridge.

OUR PREPARATIONS.

From the Army of the Potomac. GRAPHIC DESCRIPTION OF MONDAY'S FIGHT.

[Correspondence of the New York World.] BOARD TRANSPORT, JAMES RIVER, TUESDAY EVENING, JULY 1.

Events have culminated. More history has been made. Physical nature demands rest, but duty and the public demand the facts. Another terrible battle has been fought. Our weary, worn, half-fainted troops whose nobleness has never known defeat did what they could to divide and weaken the Democracy by warring on Douglas. About that time the Breckinridge men of the free States and the Republicans worked to the same end—the election of Abraham Lincoln to the office of President. Now Butler is General of the Union armies, and Soule, who did all that talent and energy could to arrest the rebellion, is arrested by the quondam ally of Secessionists and sent to a military prison.

We do not believe the charge against Soule. He has acquiesced, no doubt, in the action of his State, and submitted to his surroundings, is true; but that he approved of Secession at first we know is not true, and we have no idea he approves it now. It would be well if the President would look into this matter and see the nature of the charge, and if it be true.

MORNING.

Yesterday, while Porter was pushing for the river, Heintzelman and Sumner's corps moved down the road leading from Richmond to White Oak Swamp. The rebels immediately got up their columns and followed. He seemed to spread himself out like a fan, for before noon he was found to be advancing upon every road leading from Richmond—the Williamsburg, the Charles City, the Central and the New Market, as well as from the direction of Bottom's Bridge.

OUR PREPARATIONS.

From the Army of the Potomac. GRAPHIC DESCRIPTION OF MONDAY'S FIGHT.

[Correspondence of the New York World.] BOARD TRANSPORT, JAMES RIVER, TUESDAY EVENING, JULY 1.

Events have culminated. More history has been made. Physical nature demands rest, but duty and the public demand the facts. Another terrible battle has been fought. Our weary, worn, half-fainted troops whose nobleness has never known defeat did what they could to divide and weaken the Democracy by warring on Douglas. About that time the Breckinridge men of the free States and the Republicans worked to the same end—the election of Abraham Lincoln to the office of President. Now Butler is General of the Union armies, and Soule, who did all that talent and energy could to arrest the rebellion, is arrested by the quondam ally of Secessionists and sent to a military prison.

We do not believe the charge against Soule. He has acquiesced, no doubt, in the action of his

Daily Democrat.

PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY HARNEY, HUGHES & CO.

Office 79 Third Street, east side, between Market and Jefferson.

TUESDAY, JULY 8, 1862.

Closing and Arrival of the Mails at the Louisville Postoffice.

Eastern, Western and Northern close at 12:30 P.M., Southern, at 1 P.M., via L. & N. R.R. (small offices close at 3:30 P.M., the previous day), close at 6:30 A.M., and arrives at 6:30 P.M.

Western, at 12:30 P.M., close at 6:30 A.M., and arrives at 6:30 A.M.

Local, at 12:30 P.M. and 6:30 P.M., and arrives at 6:30 A.M.

Trans. Stage close at 12:30 at night, and arrives at 6:30
A.M.

Lebanon R.R. close at 12:30 at night, and arrives at 6:30 A.M.

Shawneetown Stage (tri-weekly) close at 12:30 at night, and arrives at 6:30 A.M.

Shawneetown Stage (tri-weekly) leaves Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 1:30 P.M., and arrives at 6:30 A.M.

Trans. Stage close at 8:00 A.M., and arrives at 6:30 A.M.

Trans. Stage where the principal roads close at 12:30 at night, the way made close at 8:00 P.M.

CITY NEWS.

For SALE—Several fouts of woolen (wool and a variety of cuts necessary in a well-appointed job office).
Also, a No. 1. Ruggard card, nearly new and in good order. Apply at this office.

Mr. C. O. SMITH is our agent at Versailles, Ky. Persons desiring to subscribe will please call on him.

The General Hospitals.

Hospital No. 1—Corner of Ninth street and Broadway.
Hospital No. 2—Corner of Eighth and Green streets.
Hospital No. 3—Main street, between Seventh and Eighth.
Hospital No. 4—Corner of Fifteenth and Main streets.
Hospital No. 5—Corner of Seventh and Main streets.
Hospital No. 6—Corner of Center and Green streets.
Hospital for small-pox—Bardstown road, near Gate Hill Cemetery.

POLICE PROCEEDINGS—Monday, July 7.—Com'd by Fred Bowman vs John Drawner, peace warrant; gave bail in $200 for 3 months.

A. Johnson charged with drunkenness and abusing his family, $100 for 2 months. Gave bail.

Michael Francis, John Welsh, Thomas Barnes, James Casey, Frank Feeney, and Pat Percy, all boys from 12 to 14 years of age, charged with bathing in the river in front of the city; discharged.

Louisa Carter, a slave of Mr. Dupree, charged with stealing sugar, coffee, tea, flour, bacon, &c., &c., from Mr. H. Asey; continued.

Joseph H. Butler and Granville Litesey, charged with stealing $27 from the Hollenkampf.

Com'd by Thos. Casey vs Wm. Casey, and Wm. Casey vs Thos. Casey, and Wm. Casey vs Munfor Grant, Mary Grant, Mary Burke, & Michael Mahan, assault and battery warrants; witnesses recognized to go before the Grand Jury on the 8th of August. Discharged.

Thos. Kent, charged with unlawfully detaining and attempting to commit a rape on Anna Gehrb; continued until to-morrow
morning.

Commonwealth by Wm. Houlejooin vs
Mary Herndon, and Mary Herndon vs
Wm. Houlejooin peace warrants; own bond of each in $100 for 3 months.

Mr. Mrs. Maria Hulie acknowledges the receipt of the following articles, received from citizens of Louisville, Ky.: 25 lbs of beef, made into soup; 3 chickens, 6 loaves bread, 5 doz. palm leaf fans, also, cash paid for fans $2; 3 bottles cordial, 1 jar of jellies, 3 doz. lemons, white sugar 6 lbs., coffee 1
lb., rice 2 lbs., 25 religious papers, 6 books, 6 quarts peaches, prunes 2 quarts, eggs
6 doz., crackers 10 lbs., butter 2 lbs., 1 muslin shirt, 6 rolls old linen, 2 prs. socks, 2 sheets, 1 mosquito net, 6 doz. biscuits, 25
doz. cakes, 6 teacups, 2 plates, 150 liqueurs;
also, the sum of $10 in cash, which has all been expended for the benefit of the sick and wounded soldiers in Hospitals Nos. 2 and 4.

NEW PAPER AT NASHVILLE.—We are in receipt of the Constitution, a new paper published in Nashville by the Cumberland Printing Association, and edited by Geo.
Baker, formerly of the Banner, and W. L.
Barre. It takes strong ground in favor of the Union and the Constitution, and is ably edited. We welcome it among our exchanges.

ED. T. B. Hays, Quartermaster of the Twenty-eighth Kentucky regiment, and Sergeant Irvine, Company E, of the same, arrived in the city Sunday evening, from Gallatin, Tennessee. They report the men in fine health and spirits, there being only two on the sick list.

A GOOD ARREST.—Officers Chas. Glass and Jerry Antle arrested a notorious personage who has been passing counterfeit money on the citizens. When arrested he had a whole host of counterfeit and spurious bank bills on his person.

We have been presented with a twenty-four pound ball by Capt. D. Sayre, of the steamer Engle. It was shot from a confederate gun at the battle of Belmont.
It presents the appearance of a "bitter pill."

The steamer Autocrat arrived yesterday morning from Memphis with a large lot of sugar, molasses, and also three hundred and eighty-eight bales of cotton. She had a fine trip of passengers.

There were no departures from the Hotel de Dillard" yesterday. This house is becoming quite popular, there being a "copious supply" of guests stopping there at present.

Mr. Charles Kremer, of this city, has signified his intention to locate permanently in Memphis, Tenn. He will take his family and commence business at once. Success attend him.

Some days ago we noticed the death of Mr. Chas. D. Weller, and Wiley Parker.
The full particulars will be found in another column of this paper.

LATE MEMPHIS AND CAIRO PAPERS
were received yesterday morning, at this office, per steamer Commercial.

SALE OR CORROS.—Mr. E. B. Hughes, of St. Louis, sold on Tuesday last, 180 bales of cotton from Memphis, at 32 cents per pound, amounting to near $20,000.

CATERPILLARS have made their appearance in this city to an alarming extent.
The trees and shrubbery are suffering very much by them.

THANKS to Mr. Wright, of the Adams Express Company, for late Cincinnati papers, per Jimmy.

A member of Sept. Nicklin's battery was struck at the Fair Grounds on the Fourth.

We are indebted to Lieut. Tindel, of the Provost Guard, for attentions to our office.

Jefferson County Court.

HON. ANDREW MONROE, JUDGE.

MONDAY, July 7, 1862.

The settled account of James W. Graham, administrator of Louis Haddox, filed and continued thirty days for exceptions.

Christian Knapp filed petition for renewal of tavern license on Preston-street plank-road.

A writ of ad quod damnum awarded to J.
H. Jansing, Geo. Doup, and M. Bensinger, on application for opening road from Dunkirk road to Fountain Ferry road.

Conrad Schlotter appointed administrator of Alexander Schlotter, Fidel Stoll, secure.

Henry Hulmyer's petition for tavern license in "California," heard.

J. F. Millis' settlement as guardian of Eliza Mills and Peter Zanone withdrawn.

Christian Best appointed administrator of Gottlieb Deiss; Jacob Best, security.

The meeting at the Courthouse last night, was not as largely attended as was anticipated. Mr. Thomas Shanks called the meeting to order and stated the object of it. Mr. Harper was appointed Secretary.
Judge Bodley was called upon to address
the meeting on the subject of "change."
It is wished to abolish all use of "script," and make silver the circulating medium, of which he said there was plenty,
if it were put in circulation. Messrs.
Shanks and Harper endorsed the remarks of Judge Bodley. Messrs. Slevin and Osborn were called upon, but had nothing to say. The meeting adjourned without accomplishing anything, to meet on Friday evening next at 8 o'clock.

As already stated in our dispatches,
the Memphis Daily Avalanche has changed proprietors, and came out on the 4th under the editorship and proprietorship of Messrs.
B. D. Nabor & R. S. Hough, as a Union sheet, with the title of the Bulletin. It promises well under the new management. The change was made necessary by the late order of Provost Marshal Hillyer, prohibiting the issuance of any paper in the military district whose editors and owners resisted to take the oath of allegiance.

The Full Board of School Trustees met last night. A series of resolutions in reference to the standard of loyalty of each applicant for teacherhip in the high and public schools, was ordered to be printed, and submitted to every member of the Board, which will meet on Wednesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. The election of teachers will take place as soon as convenient.

The Commanding Officer at Clarksville sent down a number of men to make arrests, and it is to be hoped that the authorities of the bloody deed will be apprehended.

Now that the attention of persons who wish to enter advanced classes the coming year, is called to the advertisement of J. M. Thurman.

We call the attention of readers to the fact that a valuable mule strayed or stolen, in Russell county, a few days ago.
Read advertisement.

See advertisement of notice in another column of the meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Unitarian Society, this evening.

In our business columns this morning
we publish the consolatory card of H.
W. Wilkes, who has lately removed his establishment from Fourth street to No. 406 Main street, below the corner of Main and Second, where he has added two new shops, and has a large stock of well assorted goods.

Now that his body rests beneath the soil of his native valley, the birds and the bees sing his last sad requiem; his soul has winged its way to that region of bliss where those sainted friends have gone before.

LEAVES A HOST OF FRIENDS.

CELEBRATION IN HART COUNTY.

MUNFORDVILLE, KY., July 6, 1862.

Editors Democrat—Gentlemen: Two companies of the 50th regiment, Indiana volunteers, Capts. Hilegate and Scott, having been stationed at this point for some time, and having conducted themselves with such propriety, in every particular, as to command the confidence and esteem of our people,
it was determined to give them a barbeque in token of our appreciation of their good conduct.

Yesterday, being the natal day of our Independence, was selected for the occasion, and a vast concourse of persons assembled to join in the exercises. The ladies were present in large numbers, enlivening the scene by their smiles. The young men and old were out in masses, for the double purpose of celebrating that anniversary, which by all patriotic Americans, is held most sacred, and of uniting in a expression of respect to the patriotism of our countrymen. The exercises were conducted with great interest and energy, quiet and plenty for the hardships, toils and privations of the camp, to secure us in the enjoyment of the blessings which they have left behind. And if the eye of a mother, wife or sister, of any of the members of these companies shall chance to fall upon this communication, let her be assured that, though her loved and cherished one is, for the time, separated from her, and in the midst of strangers,
yet the uniform manliness and discipline of the regiment, the moral and physical character of the men, and the highminded and patriotic spirit of the officers, will certainly secure for them a safe and honorable discharge.

YESTERDAY NIGHT.—Passengers by the stage last night from Harrodsburg, report that as the stage left that place about 9 o'clock in the morning, a fight was in progress among some of the citizens, believed to be Union and Secesh. Some eight or nine shots were fired, and two or three persons were seen to fall; but the passengers could learn no particulars as to the cause or result of the fight.

The theater had a fine house last night. The playing was superb. To-night our theater goes to promised something grand. Mr. Wm. Preston and his highly trained steel, Black Vulture, will appear in the great historical drama of Putnam, or the Iron Sons of '76. This will be an grand and interesting entertainment, and we know that the drama of Putnam will draw a tremendous crowd.

THE FOLLOWING PERSONS.—Everybody is
asked when this concert is to come off.
Prof. Whipple has requested us to announce that the time fixed upon is next Tuesday. We
would remark, in present, that nobody
in the country understands the arrangement of these things better than the Professor. Upon his arrival, he will speak to
the audience.

THE FLORAL CONCERT.—Everybody is
asked when this concert is to come off.
Prof. Whipple has requested us to announce
that the time fixed upon is next Tuesday. We
would remark, in present, that nobody
in the country understands the arrange-
ment of these things better than the Profes-
sor. Upon his arrival, he will speak to
the audience.

THE FLORAL CONCERT.—Everybody is
asked when this concert is to come off.
Prof. Whipple has requested us to announce
that the time fixed upon is next Tuesday. We
would remark, in present, that nobody
in the country understands the arrange-
ment of these things better than the Profes-
sor. Upon his arrival, he will speak to
the audience.

THE FLORAL CONCERT.—Everybody is
asked when this concert is to come off.
Prof. Whipple has requested us to announce
that the time fixed upon is next Tuesday. We
would remark, in present, that nobody
in the country understands the arrange-
ment of these things better than the Profes-
sor. Upon his arrival, he will speak to
the audience.

THE FLORAL CONCERT.—Everybody is
asked when this concert is to come off.
Prof. Whipple has requested us to announce
that the time fixed upon is next Tuesday. We
would remark, in present, that nobody
in the country understands the arrange-
ment of these things better than the Profes-
sor. Upon his arrival, he will speak to
the audience.

THE FLORAL CONCERT.—Everybody is
asked when this concert is to come off.
Prof. Whipple has requested us to announce
that the time fixed upon is next Tuesday. We
would remark, in present, that nobody
in the country understands the arrange-
ment of these things better than the Profes-
sor. Upon his arrival, he will speak to
the audience.

THE FLORAL CONCERT.—Everybody is
asked when this concert is to come off.
Prof. Whipple has requested us to announce
that the time fixed upon is next Tuesday. We
would remark, in present, that nobody
in the country understands the arrange-
ment of these things better than the Profes-
sor. Upon his arrival, he will speak to
the audience.

THE FLORAL CONCERT.—Everybody is
asked when this concert is to come off.
Prof. Whipple has requested us to announce
that the time fixed upon is next Tuesday. We
would remark, in present, that nobody
in the country understands the arrange-
ment of these things better than the Profes-
sor. Upon his arrival, he will speak to
the audience.

THE FLORAL CONCERT.—Everybody is
asked when this concert is to come off.
Prof. Whipple has requested us to announce
that the time fixed upon is next Tuesday. We
would remark, in present, that nobody
in the country understands the arrange-
ment of these things better than the Profes-
sor. Upon his arrival, he will speak to
the audience.

THE FLORAL CONCERT.—Everybody is
asked when this concert is to come off.
Prof. Whipple has requested us to announce
that the time fixed upon is next Tuesday. We
would remark, in present, that nobody
in the country understands the arrange-
ment of these things better than the Profes-
sor. Upon his arrival, he will speak to
the audience.

THE FLORAL CONCERT.—Everybody is
asked when this concert is to come off.
Prof. Whipple has requested us to announce
that the time fixed upon is next Tuesday. We
would remark, in present, that nobody
in the country understands the arrange-
ment of these things better than the Profes-
sor. Upon his arrival, he will speak to
the audience.

THE FLORAL CONCERT.—Everybody is
asked when this concert is to come off.
Prof. Whipple has requested us to announce
that the time fixed upon is next Tuesday. We
would remark, in present, that nobody
in the country understands the arrange-
ment of these things better than the Profes-
sor. Upon his arrival, he will speak to
the audience.

THE FLORAL CONCERT.—Everybody is
asked when this concert is to come off.
Prof. Whipple has requested us to announce
that the time fixed upon is next Tuesday. We
would remark, in present, that nobody
in the country understands the arrange-
ment of these things better than the Profes-
sor. Upon his arrival, he will speak to
the audience.

THE FLORAL CONCERT.—Everybody is
asked when this concert is to come off.
Prof. Whipple has requested us to announce
that the time fixed upon is next Tuesday. We
would remark, in present, that nobody
in the country understands the arrange-
ment of these things better than the Profes-
sor. Upon his arrival, he will speak to
the audience.

THE FLORAL CONCERT.—Everybody is
asked when this concert is to come off.
Prof. Whipple has requested us to announce
that the time fixed upon is next Tuesday. We
would remark, in present, that nobody
in the country understands the arrange-
ment of these things better than the Profes-
sor. Upon his arrival, he will speak to
the audience.

THE FLORAL CONCERT.—Everybody is
asked when this concert is to come off.
Prof. Whipple has requested us to announce
that the time fixed upon is next Tuesday. We
would remark, in present, that nobody
in the country understands the arrange-
ment of these things better than the Profes-
sor. Upon his arrival, he will speak to
the audience.

Daily Democrat.

COTTON HAULING AND COTTON BURNING ON THE RIVER OHIO. — The Confederate cavalry, during the country north of this city, on and near the line of the Memphis and Ohio railroad, have, within the past few days, we learn, destroyed several lots of cotton collected on plantations and designed for sale in this city. Yesterday three negro boys with drays loaded with cotton, while between Union depot and Hickory wither on their way to the city, were overtaken by a squad of Confederate cavalry. The negroes, mules, drays, and cotton were confiscated, — the drays burned and the negroes and mules taken along. The negroes and teams were owned in this city—one of the captured boys, a likely negro, and his team, being the property of Captain Dick Tucker, of the night police; another belongs to R. B. Joiner, Esq., and the other a negro well known in the city, named Foster, formerly the property of S. B. Williamson, Esq. No doubt more cotton and drays have met with the same fate in that portion of the country, but the above is the only affair of the kind that has reached us.—Memphis Argus, 2d.

FRIENDLY SENTIMENTS IN MISSISSIPPI.—We are assured by our correspondent, says the New York Tribune, who speaks from personal observation, that the people of Mississippi, below Corinth, have manifested much more friendly sentiment than greeted our army anywhere in Tennessee. From the towns but few people had fled. In the country, everybody seemed to be at home, following the usual pursuits. Positive sympathy was manifested by the rustics and town-people. Fear was hardly perceptible anywhere. The poorer classes were evidently, almost without exception, still attached to the Union, and the wealthy despaired of the success of the rebellion, and were ready to give up. Of cotton burning, but little had been done, not over a hundred bales having been destroyed between Corinth and Booneville.

SKIRMISH NEAR MORNING SUN, TENN.—Information has reached military headquarters in this city of a skirmish which occurred yesterday near Morning Sun on the Morning Sun and Corinth railroad. The infantry—said to be 240—commanded by Col. Munger, of the 57th Ohio, which had been guarding a wagon train to Gen. Sherman's division, and a body of Confederate cavalry. The Federal account is in effect that the Confederates, supposed to be 500 in number, made the attack, and were repulsed with a loss of 25 killed, wounded and prisoners; while the Federal loss was four prisoners; also that six wagons which had been captured were recovered by the Confederates. Two prisoners were brought to the city last night. One of them is Mr. Bowen, and the other a Dr. Chambers, formerly of this city. Seven men, charged with burning cotton were also brought in. It is supposed that about 70 of the Confederates are of "Porter's partisans," and the remainder citizens of the neighborhood.—Memphis Argus, 2d.

PUNISHMENT FOR GUERRILLAS.—The general orders respecting guerrillas are very pointed. We quote some of them:

Secretary Stanton says—"Let them swing." Gen. Dix advises to "shoot them on the spot."

Gen. Schofield says—"Execute them immediately."

General Blunt says—"Give them no quarter."

General Grant says—"Shoot them when found."

Gen. Halleck's orders are—"Let them be tried immediately by a drumhead court, and punished with death."

The Memphis Avalanche, of July 1st, says:

We learn from a gentleman who came into town last night from Wythe's Station, about twenty-eight miles from here, on the Memphis and Ohio Railroad, that a force of Confederate cavalry had been burning the country in the vicinity, burning cotton and committing other depredations.

At the station they had burned some forty or fifty bales, as also the railroad water tank. Our informant estimated their force at not less than two thousand, including Jackson's command and Porter's Parisan Rangers.

The sponge is an animal, and is singular enough, an animal shown capable of eating clam shells—the perforations of the latter, as frequently seen in taking them from their bed, being caused by the sponge penetrating them and appropriating the nutritive parts.

The sponge is an animal remarkably fond of newspapers, we have discovered in an experience of fifteen years.

BROWNS.—Two soldiers, one belonging to company G, 55th Ohio, and the other to Col. Carrington's regiment, were drowned in the river, near Columbus, Ohio, on Wednesday afternoon. The one of the 18th U. S. A. was Charles Haynes, of Zanesville.

The steamer City of Alton recently made the trip from St. Louis to Memphis, including stoppages, in less than thirty hours. The Captain says he can do it in twenty-four hours.

ED.—A gentleman named George Staley was recently robbed in Memphis, Tenn., of a purse containing $500. Neither the thief nor money had been heard from since the latest accounts.

ED.—A half-penny (equal to one cent) London Daily Mercury has been started. It is a sheet of four pages, and is stocked with news.

ED.—John Kirk, Jr., of Madison, Ind., died of sun-stroke on Saturday last, at Pittsburg Landing.

Ranges! Ranges! Portable & Stationary Ranges, FOR COAL OR WOOD.

SUITABLE FOR HOTELS, BOARDING HOUSES and families, low for cash.

jul 2 J. S. LITHGOW & CO.

Franklin Insurance Company, Office of the Franklin Insurance Company or Louisville, April 7, 1862.

A MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS HELD THIS day to elect a President, Vice-President, Directors for the present year, the following gentlemen were duly elected:

JAMES TRABE, President, Directors: James B. Wilder, William Gay, John L. Nick, John White, James W. Morris, W. George Anderson, John Ferguson, Jr., and F. T. Tamm.

The above company continue to do business and their contents against loss or damage by fire, and to give a full account of all their property and stock of this Company entity to the confidence of the community. A liberal arrangement is solicited.

ED.—A. L. HARRIS, Vice-President.

ED.—William G. Smith, James B. Wilder, John L. Nick, John White, James W. Morris, W. George Anderson, John Ferguson, Jr., and F. T. Tamm.

The above company continue to do business and their contents against loss or damage by fire, and to give a full account of all their property and stock of this Company entity to the confidence of the community. A liberal arrangement is solicited.

ED.—A. L. HARRIS, Vice-President.

ED.—William G. Smith, James B. Wilder, John L. Nick, John White, James W. Morris, W. George Anderson, John Ferguson, Jr., and F. T. Tamm.

The above company continue to do business and their contents against loss or damage by fire, and to give a full account of all their property and stock of this Company entity to the confidence of the community. A liberal arrangement is solicited.

ED.—A. L. HARRIS, Vice-President.

ED.—William G. Smith, James B. Wilder, John L. Nick, John White, James W. Morris, W. George Anderson, John Ferguson, Jr., and F. T. Tamm.

The above company continue to do business and their contents against loss or damage by fire, and to give a full account of all their property and stock of this Company entity to the confidence of the community. A liberal arrangement is solicited.

ED.—A. L. HARRIS, Vice-President.

ED.—William G. Smith, James B. Wilder, John L. Nick, John White, James W. Morris, W. George Anderson, John Ferguson, Jr., and F. T. Tamm.

The above company continue to do business and their contents against loss or damage by fire, and to give a full account of all their property and stock of this Company entity to the confidence of the community. A liberal arrangement is solicited.

ED.—A. L. HARRIS, Vice-President.

ED.—William G. Smith, James B. Wilder, John L. Nick, John White, James W. Morris, W. George Anderson, John Ferguson, Jr., and F. T. Tamm.

The above company continue to do business and their contents against loss or damage by fire, and to give a full account of all their property and stock of this Company entity to the confidence of the community. A liberal arrangement is solicited.

ED.—A. L. HARRIS, Vice-President.

ED.—William G. Smith, James B. Wilder, John L. Nick, John White, James W. Morris, W. George Anderson, John Ferguson, Jr., and F. T. Tamm.

The above company continue to do business and their contents against loss or damage by fire, and to give a full account of all their property and stock of this Company entity to the confidence of the community. A liberal arrangement is solicited.

ED.—A. L. HARRIS, Vice-President.

ED.—William G. Smith, James B. Wilder, John L. Nick, John White, James W. Morris, W. George Anderson, John Ferguson, Jr., and F. T. Tamm.

The above company continue to do business and their contents against loss or damage by fire, and to give a full account of all their property and stock of this Company entity to the confidence of the community. A liberal arrangement is solicited.

ED.—A. L. HARRIS, Vice-President.

ED.—William G. Smith, James B. Wilder, John L. Nick, John White, James W. Morris, W. George Anderson, John Ferguson, Jr., and F. T. Tamm.

The above company continue to do business and their contents against loss or damage by fire, and to give a full account of all their property and stock of this Company entity to the confidence of the community. A liberal arrangement is solicited.

ED.—A. L. HARRIS, Vice-President.

ED.—William G. Smith, James B. Wilder, John L. Nick, John White, James W. Morris, W. George Anderson, John Ferguson, Jr., and F. T. Tamm.

The above company continue to do business and their contents against loss or damage by fire, and to give a full account of all their property and stock of this Company entity to the confidence of the community. A liberal arrangement is solicited.

ED.—A. L. HARRIS, Vice-President.

ED.—William G. Smith, James B. Wilder, John L. Nick, John White, James W. Morris, W. George Anderson, John Ferguson, Jr., and F. T. Tamm.

The above company continue to do business and their contents against loss or damage by fire, and to give a full account of all their property and stock of this Company entity to the confidence of the community. A liberal arrangement is solicited.

ED.—A. L. HARRIS, Vice-President.

ED.—William G. Smith, James B. Wilder, John L. Nick, John White, James W. Morris, W. George Anderson, John Ferguson, Jr., and F. T. Tamm.

The above company continue to do business and their contents against loss or damage by fire, and to give a full account of all their property and stock of this Company entity to the confidence of the community. A liberal arrangement is solicited.

ED.—A. L. HARRIS, Vice-President.

ED.—William G. Smith, James B. Wilder, John L. Nick, John White, James W. Morris, W. George Anderson, John Ferguson, Jr., and F. T. Tamm.

The above company continue to do business and their contents against loss or damage by fire, and to give a full account of all their property and stock of this Company entity to the confidence of the community. A liberal arrangement is solicited.

ED.—A. L. HARRIS, Vice-President.

ED.—William G. Smith, James B. Wilder, John L. Nick, John White, James W. Morris, W. George Anderson, John Ferguson, Jr., and F. T. Tamm.

The above company continue to do business and their contents against loss or damage by fire, and to give a full account of all their property and stock of this Company entity to the confidence of the community. A liberal arrangement is solicited.

ED.—A. L. HARRIS, Vice-President.

ED.—William G. Smith, James B. Wilder, John L. Nick, John White, James W. Morris, W. George Anderson, John Ferguson, Jr., and F. T. Tamm.

The above company continue to do business and their contents against loss or damage by fire, and to give a full account of all their property and stock of this Company entity to the confidence of the community. A liberal arrangement is solicited.

ED.—A. L. HARRIS, Vice-President.

ED.—William G. Smith, James B. Wilder, John L. Nick, John White, James W. Morris, W. George Anderson, John Ferguson, Jr., and F. T. Tamm.

The above company continue to do business and their contents against loss or damage by fire, and to give a full account of all their property and stock of this Company entity to the confidence of the community. A liberal arrangement is solicited.

ED.—A. L. HARRIS, Vice-President.

ED.—William G. Smith, James B. Wilder, John L. Nick, John White, James W. Morris, W. George Anderson, John Ferguson, Jr., and F. T. Tamm.

The above company continue to do business and their contents against loss or damage by fire, and to give a full account of all their property and stock of this Company entity to the confidence of the community. A liberal arrangement is solicited.

ED.—A. L. HARRIS, Vice-President.

ED.—William G. Smith, James B. Wilder, John L. Nick, John White, James W. Morris, W. George Anderson, John Ferguson, Jr., and F. T. Tamm.

The above company continue to do business and their contents against loss or damage by fire, and to give a full account of all their property and stock of this Company entity to the confidence of the community. A liberal arrangement is solicited.

ED.—A. L. HARRIS, Vice-President.

ED.—William G. Smith, James B. Wilder, John L. Nick, John White, James W. Morris, W. George Anderson, John Ferguson, Jr., and F. T. Tamm.

The above company continue to do business and their contents against loss or damage by fire, and to give a full account of all their property and stock of this Company entity to the confidence of the community. A liberal arrangement is solicited.

ED.—A. L. HARRIS, Vice-President.

ED.—William G. Smith, James B. Wilder, John L. Nick, John White, James W. Morris, W. George Anderson, John Ferguson, Jr., and F. T. Tamm.

The above company continue to do business and their contents against loss or damage by fire, and to give a full account of all their property and stock of this Company entity to the confidence of the community. A liberal arrangement is solicited.

ED.—A. L. HARRIS, Vice-President.

ED.—William G. Smith, James B. Wilder, John L. Nick, John White, James W. Morris, W. George Anderson, John Ferguson, Jr., and F. T. Tamm.

The above company continue to do business and their contents against loss or damage by fire, and to give a full account of all their property and stock of this Company entity to the confidence of the community. A liberal arrangement is solicited.

ED.—A. L. HARRIS, Vice-President.

ED.—William G. Smith, James B. Wilder, John L. Nick, John White, James W. Morris, W. George Anderson, John Ferguson, Jr., and F. T. Tamm.

The above company continue to do business and their contents against loss or damage by fire, and to give a full account of all their property and stock of this Company entity to the confidence of the community. A liberal arrangement is solicited.

ED.—A. L. HARRIS, Vice-President.

ED.—William G. Smith, James B. Wilder, John L. Nick, John White, James W. Morris, W. George Anderson, John Ferguson, Jr., and F. T. Tamm.

The above company continue to do business and their contents against loss or damage by fire, and to give a full account of all their property and stock of this Company entity to the confidence of the community. A liberal arrangement is solicited.

ED.—A. L. HARRIS, Vice-President.

ED.—William G. Smith, James B. Wilder, John L. Nick, John White, James W. Morris, W. George Anderson, John Ferguson, Jr., and F. T. Tamm.

The above company continue to do business and their contents against loss or damage by fire, and to give a full account of all their property and stock of this Company entity to the confidence of the community. A liberal arrangement is solicited.

ED.—A. L. HARRIS, Vice-President.

ED.—William G. Smith, James B. Wilder, John L. Nick, John White, James W. Morris, W. George Anderson, John Ferguson, Jr., and F. T. Tamm.

The above company continue to do business and their contents against loss or damage by fire, and to give a full account of all their property and stock of this Company entity to the confidence of the community. A liberal arrangement is solicited.

ED.—A. L. HARRIS, Vice-President.

ED.—William G. Smith, James B. Wilder, John L. Nick, John White, James W. Morris, W. George Anderson, John Ferguson, Jr., and F. T. Tamm.

The above company continue to do business and their contents against loss or damage by fire, and to give a full account of all their property and stock of this Company entity to the confidence of the community. A liberal arrangement is solicited.

ED.—A. L. HARRIS, Vice-President.

ED.—William G. Smith, James B. Wilder, John L. Nick, John White, James W. Morris, W. George Anderson, John Ferguson, Jr., and F. T. Tamm.

The above company continue to do business and their contents against loss or damage by fire, and to give a full account of all their property and stock of this Company entity to the confidence of the community. A liberal arrangement is solicited.

ED.—A. L. HARRIS, Vice-President.

ED.—William G. Smith, James B. Wilder, John L. Nick, John White, James W. Morris, W. George Anderson, John Ferguson, Jr., and F. T. Tamm.

The above company continue to do business and their contents against loss or damage by fire, and to give a full account of all their property and stock of this Company entity to the confidence of the community. A liberal arrangement is solicited.

ED.—A. L. HARRIS, Vice-President.